Final Women's Wrestling State Invitational wraps as event heads to a sanctioned State Championship status in 2024

GREENSBORO, NC – The North Carolina High School Athletic Association (NCHSAA) in conjunction with the North Carolina Chapter of USA Wrestling, held the fourth edition of the Women's Wrestling Invitational on Friday and Saturday. The event featured 16 wrestlers in each of the 12 weight divisions. All rounds up to the Championship and Consolation Finals were completed on Friday in Bermuda Run before the Championship Rounds were conducted at the Greensboro Coliseum Fieldhouse on Saturday.

The fourth annual Women's Wrestling Invitational will be the final Women's Invitational, as the sport of Women's Wrestling will become a sanctioned sport with its own State Championship in 2024. The Women's State Individual Tournament will be held in conjunction with the Men's Individual State Tournament starting next year.

The Lumberton Pirates earned the first team title at the Women's Invitational. The Pirates held off Havelock, Lake Norman, and Westover by a total of 6 points, posting a 56-point total in the event to win. Jeulenea Khang from Freedom was selected as the Most Valuable Performer for her effort in winning the 100 lbs. division. Khang bested Jamie Hearl from Mount Airy in the finals by a 2-0 decision to pick up her 43rd victory this season.

Final Women's Wrestling State Invitational wraps as event heads to a sanctioned State Championship status in 2024

GREENSBORO, NC – The North Carolina High School Athletic Association (NCHSAA) in conjunction with the North Carolina Chapter of USA Wrestling, held the fourth edition of the Women's Wrestling Invitational on Friday and Saturday. The event featured 16 wrestlers in each of the 12 weight divisions. All rounds up to the Championship and Consolation Finals were completed on Friday in Bermuda Run before the Championship Rounds were conducted at the Greensboro Coliseum Fieldhouse on Saturday.

The fourth annual Women's Wrestling Invitational will be the final Women's Invitational, as the sport of Women's Wrestling will become a sanctioned sport with its own State Championship in 2024. The Women's State Individual Tournament will be held in conjunction with the Men's Individual State Tournament starting next year.

The Lumberton Pirates earned the first team title at the Women's Invitational. The Pirates held off Havelock, Lake Norman, and Westover by a total of 6 points, posting a 56-point total in the event to win. Jeulenea Khang from Freedom was selected as the Most Valuable Performer for her effort in winning the 100 lbs. division. Khang bested Jamie Hearl from Mount Airy in the finals by a 2-0 decision to pick up her 43rd victory this season.

Below are the Championship and Consolation Finals pairings in each weight division followed by the full results from early round action.
